

B. R. Hamm, 57, Auto Dealer, Dies Thursday

Barney R. Hamm, 57, who held one of the oldest Dodge automobile dealerships in the entire South, died of a heart attack in a local hospital Thursday afternoon. He had entered the hospital on Wednesday.

He headed B. R. Hamm Motor Co., Dodge-Plymouth dealer; and Hamm Tire & Appliance Co., which holds the General Electric and Goodyear tire franchises.

Mr. Hamm is survived by a daughter, Brenda Mae, 15, of Hope; four brothers and a sister, W. H. Jr., and Aubrey H. Hamm, both of Camden; J. Manuel Hamm of Hope; Gerald L. Hamm of Houston, Texas; and Mrs. E. W. Alexander of North Little Rock.

Mr. Hamm was born at Stamps, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hamm, and attended school there. He enlisted in World War I and served 18 months overseas with the First U. S. Division, being attached to the personal staff of Brig. Gen. L. R. Holbrook.

In 1919 he became Dodge automobile dealer at Stamps, acquired the franchise at Hope in 1922, and added the Plymouth line when it was brought out by the Chrysler corporation, serving that company continuously through the years.

He was long interested in American Legion affairs, serving the Hope post as commander, and helping the late Maj. O. L. Bodenhamer of El Dorado to become state commander and finally national commander of the Legion.

Mr. Hamm was an outdoorsman all his life and was a major figure in the development of the Hempstead Hunting Club which operates the big private reserve around Grassy Lake, near McNab. He was for many years vice-president in charge of club operations.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday at the Presbyterian Church by Dr. L. T. Lawrence, assisted by the Rev. D. W. Kelley. Burial by Oakcrest Chapel will be in Memory Gardens.

Paper Hiked $4 Ton by Abitibi Co.; Price $134

NEW YORK, (AP) — Abitibi Power & Paper Co., Ltd. of Toronto Wednesday boosted the price of newsprint $4 a ton, effective March 1, possibly heading a general increase in the industry.

Abitibi, one of Canada's largest manufacturers, said its new price would be $134 a ton, delivered in New York. It was the first announcement of a price increase by any producer since the last general rise one year ago.

The American Newspaper Publishers Assn. warned the increase could result in "serious consequences" for daily newspapers faced with "increasing economic pressures." As U. S. newspapers consume around seven million tons of newsprint a year, a general increase of $4 would add at least 28 million dollars to their annual operating costs.

47% Decline in Polio Cases in the U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of polio cases in this country dropped by about 47 percent in 1956, the Public Health Service said today. The figures were: 15,400 cases reported in 1956 against 29,270 in 1955.

Last year was the first in which there was widespread use of the Salk polio vaccine. Although the formal report made no reference to this, a spokesman said the big reduction obviously reflected use of the vaccine.

There were 6,708 paralytic polio cases reported in 1956, compared with 10,641 in 1955. Cases of infectious encephalitis increased by some 50 percent during 1956 to 2,193 from 1,422 in 1955.

Polio, or parot fever, increased by some 90 percent, totaling 508 cases. One far more cases occurred in 38 different states.

There were 631,906 cases of measles last year, compared with 547,497 the year before, and 1,750 cases of typhoid compared with 1,724.

Diphtheria, which started off at a relatively high level in 1955, showed a decline late in the year for the annual total to 1,031, compared with 2,039 in 1955.

U. S. Pledged to Help Defend 45 Nations

By DONALD J. GONZALES

WASHINGTON (UP) — The United States has formal treaty commitments to help defend 45 friendly nations if they are attacked.

These treaty areas extend over about 25 per cent of the world's population and land area. More precisely, American power stands guard over more than 700 million people and 16 million square miles of the free world's land area.

The figures are in addition to protection afforded 160 million American people and the three million square miles of the United States itself.

No formal treaty commitments are envisaged in the new "Eisenhower doctrine" for the Middle East. But the protective umbrella of American military strength could conceivably cover 10 more nations in that region having a land area of 2.7 million square miles and 88 million more people.

And this isn't all — by a long shot. The United States has key defense bases in South, Saudi Arabia, Lybia, Morocco and other nations. If these bases or nations were attacked the United States probably would retaliate against any aggressor.

Uncle Sam's forces have other general commitments which aren't spelled out precisely. On Nov. 20, for example, the United States declared that "a threat to the territorial integrity or political independence of the members (of the five-nation Baghdad Pact) would be viewed by the United States with the utmost gravity."

This could mean use of American forces. The Baghdad Pact nations are Turkey, Iraq, Pakistan, Iran and Britain.

America's alliances have mushroomed during the last 10 years. The nation has long since junked its historic policy of avoiding entanglements in foreign powers during peacetime. In almost every case the records are an answer to the dangers of Communist aggression.

Not all the treaties require the United States to fight automatically in case of aggression. Consultation and congressional action are generally included in treaty procedures. But the effect of all the agreements is that the United States would be expected to fight. Twenty signatories would be expected to help the United States if it were attacked.

Peaceful Use of Atom Helpful in Many Ways

By STANLEY GODFREY

ROME (AP) — Your potatoes are sprouting too much down in the cellar this winter. Dose them with a little radioactivity.

Want to grow roses on a spruce tree? Try radioactive isotope P32. The peaceful outcrop of the atom can stiffen the stalks of barley and make for quicker and easier harvesting. It can keep green bananas in storage longer before they ripen, tell the scientist why some sheep need more food than others — and aid the farmer in hundreds of different ways.

Throughout the world the search goes on unceasingly for ways and means of using the atom for bringing cheaper, better foods to the market — and

Shocking State Hospital Cruelties Cited by ALC

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Citing "many instances of shocking cruelty to inmates" at the State Hospital for Nervous Diseases, a Legislative Council investigating committee today recommended "some drastic changes in personnel" and night patrols of the wards.

The report, turned over to the Legislative Council this morning, said it considered night patrols mandatory and added: "The police agency should report directly to the superintendent."

It also recommended that the hospital rid itself of what it called "doctors with personal problems of narcotics and alcohol."

The report on the state mental institution was compiled after several days of taking testimony from hospital personnel and former employees.

The Legislative Council directed its Committee on Charitable and Penal Institutions to investigate conditions at the hospital after hearing reports of mismanagement and mistreatment of patients.

Not all of the report was critical. "We are pleased to report that

Search Near Arkadelphia for Youth

ARKADELPHIA, (AP) — An armed 17-year-old youth broke out of the State Boys Industrial School last night, eluded police in several towns, crashed through a backdoor under gunfire and was the object of a search in woods near here today.

State Trooper Glen Minton said Johnny W. Holland was the youth sought. He said Holland recently was sentenced on charges of armed robbery at Hot Springs. Holland might be armed, Minton said.

Police said Holland escaped from the Pine Bluff institution and stole a late model automobile at Sheridan.

Hot Springs officers chased the stolen car through that city early today but lost it. Police said the stolen car turned up next at a service station here about 4 a. m.

Malvern Patrolman Ted Craig, manning a roadblock about eight miles west of here, said he saw the stolen car approaching and fired a shotgun blast at the windshield as it roared past.

The Food & Agricultural Organization of the United Nations has set up a new committee to correlate and exchange information on ways the atom can help in European agriculture. It is known as the "European contact group on uses of isotopes and radiation in agricultural research."

Recently it completed its first meeting at Washington, in the Netherlands. Delegates from 16 European nations attended, along with observers from the United States and Soviet Russia, and eight international organizations.

Their findings and recommendations are being studied and national governments are being urged to

Faubus Likely to Ask for Sales Tax Hike

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The 1957 General Assembly will receive proposals for new revenue-producing methods from Gov. Orval Faubus in a bid to improve Arkansas' educational system.

The governor did not reveal the nature of his planned recommendations for additional revenue, but he emphasized that educational progress is vital if Arkansas is to make industrial advances.

Faubus said the state's educational standards cannot compete with others and this detracts of state industrial prospects.

In an address to a Little Rock civic group yesterday, Faubus said: "Education standards of grand-father's day and my day are not good enough for our children."

The governor has indicated several times that a request for an increase in the state sales tax might be forthcoming. At one point in his talk yesterday he defended sales taxes in an off-the-cuff comment.

He departed from his prepared speech to remark about a recent letter to the editor of a Little Rock newspaper which contended that sales taxes drive people to other states.

Faubus said that this was incorrect. He pointed out that California, Florida and Washington have "higher sales taxes than Arkansas and they are not losing population."

The governor emphasized that he was not saying he would ask for a sales tax increase.

Faubus also said that the state should spend more money on the state Hospital for Nervous Diseases.

Construct the Arkansas Children's Colony.

Build a swimming pool at the state School for the Blind and cottages for superintendents of the Blind and Deaf schools.

Either improve or close down the state Negro Girls Training School near Brinkley, which he has termed a "disgrace."

U. S. Drifts to Sex Anarchy, Says Professor

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Prof. Philip Sorokin of Harvard University, an authority of human behavior, says Americans are drifting toward sex anarchy.

"Americans," he said, "are victims of a sex mania as malignant as cancer and as socially menacing as communism."

Prof. Sorokin's views on the subject are contained in a book titled "The American Sex Revolution," due in the book stores next Monday.

"We are completely surrounded by the rising tide of sex, which is flooding every compartment of our culture, every section of our social life," Prof. Sorokin wrote.

"We live in a video environment saturated with exhibitionistic or teasingly semi-draped nudity," he said. "Sex appeal has become a must in commercial advertising."

Prof. Sorokin said the nation's "sex obsession" is reflected in the mounting divorce rate, the upsurge in sex crimes, "the emphasis of sex in radio and TV programs, stage plays and movies, popular songs, pictures reading matter and advertising."

He also wrote that sex plays a major role in modern American political life. One of the alarming results, he said, is that "sex bribery and blackmail" are now as "prevalent as monetary corruption."

"Sexually infamous persons or their proteges," Sorokin said, "are appointed to ambassadorships or other high office and profligate some times become the popular mayors of metropolises, or members of the Cabinet or leaders of a political party."

"Among our public officials there is a vast legion of profligates, both heterosexual and homosexual."

Harvard professor charges that cocktail parties play "an important role in the stimulation of sex drives and in the provoking of many marital and extra-marital liaisons."

"Our morals," he said, "have changed so notably that continence, chastity and faithfulness are increasingly viewed as oddities, as the ossified survival of a prehistoric age."

Sorokin, who is head of Harvard research center in creative altruism, also said: "This sex revolution is as important as the most dramatic political or economical upheaval."

British Plan Strip on Indian Ocean Isle

LONDON (UP) — Britain plans to re-establish and operate an airfield on Gan, one of the Maldivic islands in the Indian ocean, as a link with the Far East and Australia. It was announced today.

The Commonwealth relations office said Gan will serve as an alternative to Katunake airfield in Ceylon. Gan is the largest of a chain of coral atolls 400 miles southwest of Ceylon and was the site of an airfield during the war.

Actress Missing and May Have Been Kidnaped

By DEAN GAUTSCHY

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Blonde Actress Marie (The Body) McDonald, 32, disappeared from her home in her night clothes early today and police feared she had been kidnaped.

The supposed abductors left a kidnap note and a trail of anonymous telephone threats, one of which declared, "Don't call anyone if you want to see her alive again."

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents entered the case on standby, pending a decision to take over officially.

"It looks like kidnaping," said Police Inspector Henry Kerr after Valley Division police conducted a morning-long investigation from the time of her disappearance.

Kerr said there was "only a remote" possibility that a hoax or the sort of publicity stunt that occasionally has enveloped the Hollywood scene was involved.

No clues to the supposed abductors' identity were discovered in the initial investigation. Police found no clothing other than a night robe and a pair of slippers.

Crime Laboratory Expert Ray Pinker of the Los Angeles Police Department said evidence indicated the front gate — electrically opened from inside the house — had been forced to gain entrance to the palatial, fenced, surrounded home in the San Fernando Valley.

Reports U. S. Will Sell Arms to Poland

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration was reported today to let Communist Poland buy surplus U. S. farm goods with dollars at world market prices.

This would be the first step, officials said, in the Eisenhower program of helping any country that breaks away from Moscow during the initial stages of its economic estrangement from the Soviet bloc.

The Commerce Department is expected to announce shortly the lifting for Poland of export licensing restrictions which barred Poland and other Iron Curtain countries from buying surplus U. S. farm goods for dollars at world prices.

The restriction, imposed as administrative policy two years ago, dealt specifically at that time with butter. The argument was that otherwise the Reds could buy U. S. butter cheaper than the American housewife could. Domestic farm prices, propped up by U. S. farm subsidies, are generally higher than world market prices.

In preliminary talks at Warsaw between U. S. and Polish officials, the Poles have sought wheat, cotton and farm and factory machines.

The Poles emphasized they would trade — not aid which would require them to make a political commitment to the United States.

Ecuador Railway in Private Hands

QUITO, Ecuador (UP) — President Camilo Ponce's government has turned the national railways over to a private company in an attempt to modernize the system and make it pay.

A decree issued yesterday said the railways had been run at a loss for many years. Sources said placing the system under private administration was expected to attract foreign capital needed for modernization.

Asks Ike for Cost, Dangers of Proposal

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) called on President Eisenhower today to give Congress an estimate of the "costs and of the dangers" involved in his proposal for thwarting possible Red aggression in the Middle East.

Mansfield, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Eisenhower should provide this information when he appears before a joint session tomorrow.

The senator spoke out in an interview regarding Eisenhower's request for standby authority to use U. S. military forces in the Middle East in event of possible aggression there.

The President will go before an unusual Saturday joint session to press for approval of a resolution which would:

Give him advance authority to use U. S. military might if he felt such a move was necessary to block Russian intrusion into the Middle East.

Arkansans in Congress Get Key Posts

WASHINGTON (AP) — All of Arkansas' delegation of senators and representatives except Sen. McClellan (D) took the oath of office for new terms when the Democratic-controlled 85th Congress opened yesterday.

McClellan's third term has four years to run. He escorted Sen. Fulbright (D) to the Senate rostrum for the swearing in ceremony.

Reps. Gathings, Mills and Norrell started their 10th terms yesterday. Rep. Harris his ninth. Rep. Hays his eighth and Rep. Trimble his seventh. All are Democrats.

The Arkansas delegation holds three major committee chairmanships and impressive seniority. No other state delegation has more than three committee chairmanships and few have that many.

McClellan — Government Operations Committee as well as its investigation subcommittee. Fulbright — Senate Banking Committee.

Harris — Future chairman of the House Commerce Committee after its organization is completed in a few days.

Members of other House committees include Norrell — appropriations, Mills — ways and means, Gathings — agriculture, Hays — foreign affairs and Trimble — rules.

Senate Group Seeking Help From Nixon

By JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON (UP) — A drive to limit filibusters and permit passage of civil rights legislation heads off for almost certain defeat in the Senate today.

Advocates of the move hopes to win support from Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Senate's presiding officer. But there was no clear indication that Nixon would — or could — help their cause significantly.

The Senate was scheduled to take up the filibuster dispute shortly after it convened and to reach a crucial vote on the matter.

As for the outcome, anti-filibuster forces would say in advance only that they were stronger than they were in 1953 when a similar drive failed 70 to 21. Today's move was sponsored by a bipartisan bloc of 21 senators, but opponents said it would get no more than 35 votes, far short of a majority of the Senate's 66 members.

The House was in recess today. Both it and the Senate held their opening sessions yesterday, swore in new members and elected officers, putting the Democrats, because of their majorities in both houses in control.

Both chambers will meet in an extraordinary joint session tomorrow to hear President Eisenhower deliver his special message on the Middle East. The President will appeal for authority to use U. S. troops, if necessary, to counter any Russian aggression in the Middle East.

Nixon became a central figure in the filibuster dispute after anti-filibuster forces disclosed they would pose parliamentary inquiries to obtain his opinion on whether a new set of Senate rules could be adopted at the outset of Congress.

Under the existing parliamentary situation, however, Nixon's opinion, if one were given would be purely advisory and not binding.

Life Termers Get Reduction of Sentences

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Life sentences of five convicted murderers have been reduced by Gov. Orval Faubus. Sentences of five other persons also were commuted by the governor yesterday.

Those who were granted clemency are eligible for early parole. The convicted murderers who received commutations were:

Freeman Gamble, sentenced in Crittenden County in 1941 for the fatal shooting of Charles Gaud, death sentenced lowered to life imprisonment by former Gov. Homer Adkins, reduced to 45 years by Gov. Faubus.

Archie Barnes, convicted in 1935 of fatally shooting C. A. Martin, a Blytheville taxi driver, sentence reduced to 40 years. Barnes' father and brother were electrocuted for the same crime.

Helen McBride, convicted in 1941 as an accomplice in the Yell County slaying of her husband, sentence cut to 27 years.

Archie Allen, sentenced in Scott County in 1937 for the slaying of Eben Bathell of Waldron, sentence reduced to 35 years.

Other commutations went to: Sheila J. Gay and Lois Cameron of Independence County, each sentenced to three years for forgery, sentenced cut to parole eligibility.

Joseph H. Copeland, St. Francis County, two years for keeping gambling house, term reduced to time served.

Walter John Henderson, Mississippi County, burglary and grand larceny, 21 years reduced to 12 years.

Don Edward Warren, Poinsett County, robbery, six years reduced to parole eligibility.

Ike's Idea to Use Troops Not New

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The idea of using American armed forces in some way to stop the spread of communism is not new with President Eisenhower. He discussed it at least two years ago.

He will go before Congress tomorrow to ask standby authority — approval beforehand — to use American forces in the Middle East when he thinks it necessary.

Although he has now had at least two years to think over this problem there were indications late this week that he and his advisers were still not certain on how to say what he wanted to ask.

No matter what he says, it is likely that Congress, after committee hearings, will have a hand in the phrasing of any resolution it passes to give Eisenhower standby authority.

It is even possible but not likely, that Congress won't give Eisenhower the authority at all.

The State Department by the way it "leaked" news of Eisenhower's proposed request to Congress has put Congress on a delicate spot.

If it repudiates Eisenhower's idea, it would be doing so at a time when the danger of Russian penetration in the Middle East, it is only by infiltration and subversion and not by armed attack, is serious.

A repudiation by Congress now would appear as notice to the world — and to Russia and the Middle East — that American opinion was so divided on what to do to block communism that it didn't know now to act.

Still, in 1953, on the urging of some of his fellow Republicans, Eisenhower proposed that Congress pass a resolution condemning Russia for violating a 1947 breaking wartime treaties.

The Republicans didn't like his resolution. They wanted a more strongly worded. The Democrats didn't. The result: Eisenhower's proposal dropped in the waste basket.

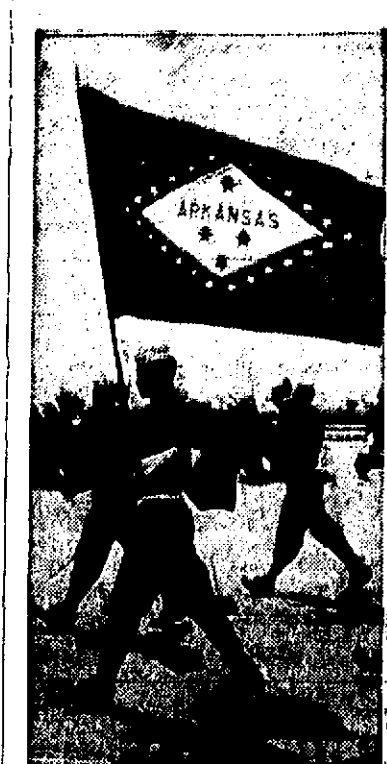

Two years ago Eisenhower informed the Defense Department this country should "provide for meeting lesser hostile acts in situations not broadened by the intervention of a major aggressor's forces."

A major aggressor of course would have been Russia or Red China.

At his news conference Jan. 12, 1955, Eisenhower was asked to explain what he meant. He was pretty vague, explaining he wouldn't try to answer in detail because no military situation could be visualized entirely in advance.

He added this country was trying to help other nations around the world build up their own forces sufficiently strong to handle rebellion or subversion where there wasn't major outside interference. But he went on:

"If an established and friendly government calls on the United States for help, light forces, a marine unit, could go in and that would be sufficient to help out."

we find much in the record of that institution to commend and we are aware of the fact that a great deal of good has been accomplished," the report said.

"The institution has many dedicated men and women in its employ who have rendered service over and above what might normally be required, and we do not wish them nor the public to construe our criticism as applying to those who have labored earnestly and humbly to assist the most unfortunate class of the state's wards," the report said.

The committee said, "Evidence indicates that three patients have been killed at the Benton unit and yet we failed to find that management has instituted a single investigation."

On this and other points the committee was especially critical of the Benton unit where it reported that "horrible practices" had been prevalent.

Nearly all of the specific incidents of alleged mistreatment or mismanagement were directed at the Benton branch.

The hospital's main unit is at Little Rock and it has a dairy farm at Baum.

The committee said a Negro patient at Benton was so badly beaten by another patient, used as a "bouncer," that the first man died.

When a doctor was notified, the committee said, his comment was: "Take the so-and-so to the hospital."

In this instance, as in the others, there was no indication of an investigation, the committee said.

Details of the other killings mentioned were given in the report.

alleged at FAO headquarters here.

So much research is going on that the group asked member nations to list only the outstanding experiments in reporting for the master index to avoid clogging up the files.

The group broke up the experiments under way into four main groups—crop production, soil preservation and enrichment, food preservation, and animal science.

So far as crop production, soil fertility and livestock production are concerned the amount of isotopes and equipment needed are relatively inexpensive, and training in their use can be acquired in a relatively short time, the group reported.

The main benefit of radiation in these fields lies in its ability to penetrate biological tissues and induce changes in them. Experiments are concentrated on the use of isotopes to kill off insect pests infecting growing crops, livestock, or stored foods and to aid in sterilizing or pasteurizing foodstuffs, like meat, by killing bacteria.

The delegates agreed, however, that atomic preservation is unlikely to replace normal heat sterilization for foodstuffs where it is now used or the preservation of meat and fish by antibiotics.

Rather they agreed it should be developed as an "accessory" treatment along with such methods as refrigeration, or salting.

One possibility now being investigated is to give lightly salted bacon a radiation exposure to increase its life in storage.

But perhaps the first wide use of radiation will be with potatoes. Experiments have been under way for several years in many European nations to inhibit sprouting in stored potatoes by subjecting them to light bombardment by isotopes.

UN Political Committee in Conference

By TOM HOGG
UNITED NATIONS N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. Assembly's top Political Committee finally gets down to work today with a renewal of debate on the long-deadlocked question of Korean reunification.

The discussion was expected to start with the usual Soviet bloc bid to invite Communist North Korea and Red China to sit in. In the past such attempts have been beaten down although South Korea has been invited to send an observer team.

The committee voted 58-8 last night to lead off its agenda with Korea and of place disarmament second. The Soviet bloc tried unsuccessfully to give the arms question the top spot and place Korea at the end.

The United States did not dispute the prime importance of disarmament but indicated it wanted a week or so to prepare for the debate.

The committee, whose work has been delayed nearly two months by Assembly meetings on the Hungarian and Middle East crises, has a packed agenda.

Gas Contract to Paper Mill Before PSC

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Public Service Commission yesterday held a hearing on a proposed contract under which Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. would supply natural gas to Dierks Paper Co.'s new plant planned near Pine Bluff.

The commission took the application under advisement.

Dierks would pay 3.350 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of gas for the first one million cubic feet delivered each month. The price would range downward to 2.075 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for all gas over 500 million cubic feet.

The proposed contract also contains clauses requiring "take or pay" of a certain amount of gas and for adjustments in the rates and for possible increased taxes against the gas company.

In contrast to the requested contract, Ark. La.'s general rate to large industrial consumers, as approved by the PSC in November 1955, "starts at 3 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for the first million cubic feet and ranges downward to 1.725 cents for all over 500 million cubic feet."

The general industrial schedule contains no provision for "take or pay" or for tax adjustment.

A protest against the general industrial rate now is pending in the Arkansas Supreme Court.

House Fires in Three Areas Leave 12 Dead

STUTTGART — One Negro boy was killed and another burned seriously yesterday in a house fire here.

Dwain Duke, 3, died in the fire and his stepbrother, Tony Anthony 2 was hospitalized with severe burns. A 2-year-old girl, Pat Holmes, escaped without injury.

Firmer said that they were not sure who carried the infant girl to safety.

Dwain's mother was visiting neighbor when the fire — of unknown origin — was discovered.

MARSHALL, Mo. (UP) — A family of five perished early today when flames razed a four-room frame house five miles northeast of Marshall.

Deputy Sheriff Henry Hoff identified the dead as Orvell Swisher, 37; his wife, Edith, 34; and three children three-year-old Larry Franklin Swisher, Linda Jean, nine, and Orvell Wayne Swisher five.

The bodies were found in the smoldering ruins about 7 a.m.

Neighbors reported seeing a fire in the vicinity about three hours earlier but believed it was a small brush blaze and did not investigate.

Hoff said the victims apparently suffocated from smoke as all were in their beds.

An overheated stove was believed to be the cause of the fire. There were two stoves in the farm residence, one a coal burner and the other designed for wood.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ga. (UP) — A family of six died today when flames destroyed their home near here.

The early morning blaze killed A. Lucius Ringwood, about 40; his wife, Mrs. Bertha Ringwood, also about 40; and their four children.

Police are investigating the fire to try to determine the cause. The fire broke out shortly before 5 a.m. on one of Georgia's coldest mornings of the winter at the frame house the Ringwoods rented.

Ringwood was employed as a mechanic by the J. M. Huber Corp. at Huber Ga.

THE SOLID GOLD CADILLAC

Sunday School Lesson

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

We are so wont to think of the life of Jesus of Nazareth as divine that we mostly fail to sense the amazing nature of that life in its human, earthly aspect. We often fail to think of Jesus as a man among men, and of His life story among the innumerable biographies of the great.

Yet "amazing" is the only word that can characterize the life of Jesus in this aspect. The contrast with all other biographies would be unbelievable were it not that the Gospels of the New Testament have made it so real and so vivid.

I am currently reading the autobiography of a former mayor of New York, George B. McClellan, Jr., "The Gentleman and the Tiger." It runs to nearly 400 closely printed pages, and is typical of thousands of similarly long works.

In contrast, think of the biography of Jesus. It is contained chiefly in the four New Testament Gospels, though Paul adds something in the "words of the Lord Jesus, how He said: It is more blessed to give than to receive" — words in that form found in the Gospels are re-

DOROTHY DIX

You've Got to Work at Making Marriage Happy

Dear Dorothy Dix: Perhaps you've heard this story a thousand times, but it's new to me and I'd like some advice. I married at 16. Now seven years later, I have three children. Since I have a family, I sit home from morning till night, never go anywhere, never have fun. I don't love my husband and guess I never did.

I married to get away from home. My husband is a good man, I have no complaints about him, and I know the failure of our marriage is my fault.

Do I have to waste the rest of my life for one mistake? No, there isn't any other man, as I suppose you suspect.

PHYLLIS

Dear Phyllis: Yes indeed, I have heard your story many times. A girl marries too young, then regrets the fact that she was cheated of good things, freedom, nice clothes and beauty.

You have, however, many compensations — a good husband, three fine children and a nice home. Within the walls of your house are all the ingredients for happiness. It's a challenge to you to make them well, and produce a good family.

I don't think you really dislike your husband; rather, you look upon him as the cause of your frustration. Leaving him will solve nothing, except to awaken you to the fact that you love him. You can come to the same conclusion through less drastic means.

Tell your man of your loneliness and arrange to get out to parents' meetings at your child's school. You'll find many other mothers in the same boat. Try joining groups affiliated with your church, too. When you find company in your loneliness, through church or school, you'll face your responsibilities with courage.

Keep your home together. You'll be very glad you did.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My home life is happy, my husband ideal, but at the office where I work a married man has been paying the compliments which I admit, were nice to hear. One day out of a clear sky he kissed me.

Shortly after, I said I'd better look for another job, but he said he'd leave instead. Since his departure, we've been having lunch together about once a week. Can this possibly be wrong when I get such pleasure out of it? My husband, of course, doesn't know about the man.

JANIE

Dear Janie: Walking on the edge of a precipice isn't harmful in itself — until one falls off! A luncheon date ordinarily wouldn't be harmful either — but admit that you wouldn't be a bit adverse to having something come of it!

The very fact that you feel the situation must be kept from your husband is evidence of its riskiness.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm 30 and for several months have been dating a Navy man 12 years my senior. He's conscious of the age gap; I'm not! He's a most devoted, considerate man, but has never said he loved me, though every action indicates that he does. He's stationed quite near my home town, and we see each other every night. He's the quiet type, but why doesn't he say he loves me?

EMILIE

Dear Emilie: There must be some reason why a good catch like this is single at 42. Possibly his reluctance is the answer. Some men can't take the initiative. Since this seems to be the case with your beau, it's up to you to conduct negotiations.

Figure that if you are rebuffed, it's better than uncertainty.

A DOCTOR FOR BLUE JAY COVE

By ELIZABETH SEIFERT

Copyright 1956 by Elizabeth Seifert. Distributed by NEA Service.

THE STORY: Reluctantly Dr. Alex Ward warns Dr. Sue that her husband, Dr. Matt Knapp, has been seeing one of the outpatients, Miss Lenore Black on the sly and has an interest in her beyond that of a doctor for a patient.

XVII

Matt was at the Kiwanis meeting tonight. Sue would not hesitate to call him at the hotel. Yes, and she'd expect to find him, too. Just let a call come in.

At this precise minute, the phone did ring.

The call was from Cass. "Will you send Matt over his car once, Sue Aunt Cordy is—very ill."

"Oh isn't Alex there?"

"Yes, he's here — but — she's awfully sick, Sue. And it's his mother. He — please send Matt!" Her voice shrilled with fear.

Ten minutes after Cass had phoned, Sue was coming in through the leaded front door. A doctor hurries best when he takes his time, and jittery, nervous Sue had learned that lesson well. Each motion counted. She dropped her coat in the hall, brushed her hands through her hair, then she walked across the living room, and met Cass at the door to Aunt Cordy's bedroom.

"Did she fall?" she asked.

"No, it's a stroke. Or her heart. Alex says he isn't sure."

Sue went to the bed where Aunt

duced to their essential elements, omitting the part that are duplicated or similar, it means that the biography of Jesus is in the compass of what would be a comparatively small booklet instead of a book.

Yet the amazing thing is how real, vital, and complete is that four-Gospel biography of Jesus. We know what He thought; we know what He taught. We know what manner of man He was; and there is no need to explain why His place and influence in the life of mankind have been so vast and so widespread.

The revelation is all there in the Gospels.

How has that amazing result been achieved? Partly by recording the words of Jesus Himself — the so-called Sermon on the Mount, the Parables, the intimate talks with the disciples, in the chapter in John and elsewhere. But it is also achieved, and strikingly, in the incidents and contacts, the stories that live and which make the brief ministry of Jesus so vivid, and so related to all of human life in every age.

This too, is very remarkable — the universality of that brief, four-gospel biography. The ministry of Jesus was confined to a small country, Palestine, and primarily to only a part of it, for the ministry was mostly in Galilee and Judea, with a very notable incident in Samaria, amazing in its nature and with the clearest, most definite words concerning worship over spoken (John 4).

But the locality has virtually nothing to do with the truth that shines from the words of Jesus. And the stories of what He did. That, I think, is the greatest aspect of the biography of Jesus. We call Him Jesus of Nazareth, but truly He is Jesus of the whole world.

Continues to Seek Low Power Price

WASHINGTON (AP) Rep. Trimble (D-Ark) today renewed his fight to insure a low price tag on power generated at federally constructed dams.

He said the first bill he introduced many that he couldn't take. D'y you understand?"

"Sure I understand. Alex has shown that he was working. I thought most of it was last week's row with Francy."

"That was part of it. Sue, why does she act that way? Does she want Alex to leave?"

"After the night I've had, Cass, I'm not up to explaining our Francy."

"I know, but—well, I'll go on. Alex was worried about his work. That had decided him that he should leave the Springs, go and do his own sort of work."

"Had he told Francy he was leaving?"

"I don't know. He's written a couple of letters to psychiatry specialists."

"Yes, he had," said Cass soberly. "Several days ago, but Sue, I don't think — Aunt Cordy didn't like the suggestion, but, really, I've seen her get as upset over a burned pan of cinnamon rolls."

duces in the new Congress will be similar to his proposal last year to require the cost of power installations at such dams to be figured on what is known as the incremental basis.

Under this theory the cost of power features of a dam is figured as the difference between what it would cost to build the dam with the power facilities and what it would cost without those facilities.

The Eisenhower administration has used another theory under which the power features of a dam are charged with a share of such a dam without power. This method allocates a greater part of total cost to power and Trimble contends, results in a sharp increase in power prices.

Promises to Halt Gambling at Spa

HOPE SPRINGS — New Prosecutor Walter J. Herbert yesterday ordered a crackdown on bookies bingo games and bars in Garland County.

Herbert said his order was "what the people anticipated as the result of the election."

Herbert, a veteran attorney who had lost two previous races for the office, won by a close margin over a veteran opponent, James R. Campbell.

He did not campaign on a reform ticket.

Robert was sworn in Tuesday and met with Garland Sheriff Leonard Ellis and Hot Springs Police Chief John Erney yesterday.

Ellis and Erney said they understood the closing order would take effect immediately although no deadline was mentioned.

The edict is similar to one issued by Sheriff Ellis last Sept. 25 after Circuit Judge C. Floyd Huff Jr. criticized the sheriff in a charge to the grand jury.

The Hot Springs Sentinel-Record said establishments which closed their doors on Ellis' orders reopened after the election.

154 Compete in California Golf Meet

LOS ANGELES — The 1957 golfing wars get under way today with 154 players on the firing line and taking dead aim at the top money in the $35,000 Los Angeles Open.

This is the kickoff tournament on a rich winter trail and the main target is $7,000 top money for the winner.

The scene is the Rancho Municipal golf course in West Los Angeles, an estimated 6,900 yards of challenge which Lloyd Mangrum turned completely a year ago in winning the L. A. Open for the fourth time.

Mangrum's four official trips around the place last year were done in 272 strokes, 12 under Par's par 35-71.

Tommy Bolt made one round trip in a sensational 63 and finished in third place, and just yesterday at 24-year-old newcomer in pro circles, Gay Brewer, did the job in 64.

Brewer 24, the ex-Kentucky amateur champ now playing for the Cincinnati Country Club, missed only one green, scored seven birdies and never had a putt of more than 10 feet.

It netted Brewer $400 out of a $2,500 pro-amateur purse, which was offered in addition to the $35,000 for the tournament proper.

Former winners on deck are Mangrum, Tommy Bolt and Fred Wampler.

In best ball competition, pro Bob Rossburg and former movie star Buddy Rogers and pro Eric Monti and Cleveland's baseball pitching hero, Bob Lemon, tied with scores of 60. The pros collected $300 apiece for the afternoon.

'The Solid Gold Cadillac' Opens Sunday at the Saenger

Judy Holliday brings her irrepressible, inimitable and infectious brand of dizzy blondness to the Saenger theater screen in Columbia Pictures' "The Solid Gold Cadillac."

The solid gold comedy hit, which also stars Paul Douglas, opens Sunday; it's certain to be a long, long run.

"The Solid Gold Cadillac" is based on the Broadway comedy; in it, Judy is seen as a blonde chick who likes to play around the Stock Market. She teaches the bears and bulls and wolves of Wall Street all about the birds and bees, giving big business the business. Douglas who starred with Miss Holliday on Broadway in "Born Yesterday," which made them both famous and which later won for Judy an Academy Award as best screen actress of the year, is seen in "The Solid Gold Cadillac" as the tycoon with Wall Street to Wall Street carpeting.

A part-time actress in "The Solid Gold Cadillac," Judy invades the business world as a stockholder, a very unimportant one at that, who asks embarrassing questions at a stockholders' meeting. The inept Board of Directors, to shut her up, give her a job with their company as "Director of Stockholder Relations."

This gives Judy a chance to meet or to communicate with all the other minority stockholders as well as to view the machinations of the Board of Directors from the inside.

She does her job so well, she is deluged with stock proxies that virtually give her command of the multi-million dollar corporation.

The practiced comic maneuvers that Judy and Douglas go through are matched by those of the splendid supporting cast of "The Solid Gold Cadillac." Seldom has there been such a harassed corporation treasurer as Fred Clark; or a bewildered Board chairman as John Williams; or as ingratiating, if worthless, a member of a Board of Directors as Hiram Sherman.

Never Patterson, as Judy's secretary, and Arthur O'Connell as a romantic duo under Miss Holliday's protective wing, while Ray Collins is another nonplussed company director.

Abe Burrows' screen play of "The Solid Gold Cadillac" is derived from the play by George Kaufman and Howard Teichmann produced on the stage by Max Gordon. Richard Quine directed the Columbia comedy for producer Fred Kohlmar.

Teams Again Bid for National Recognition

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer

Wake Forest, already ranked No. 15 nationally, showed almost all the way against George Washington, Jump-shooting Jack Williams popped in 22 points to set the pace, while Jack Jolly led the losing Colonials with 18.

At Miami, a city that also proved hospitable to Colorado's football team earlier this week in the Orange Bowl victory over Clemson, the Buffaloes Cagers nearly blew a 22-point before downing Miami. After leading, 60-38, with 14 minutes left Colorado found its lead cut to 67-63 with two minutes left. But Miami's three best players all fouled out and Jerry Schoeder's 18 points led Colorado to victory.

In other leading games last night:
Duquesne confounded the "Experts" by whipping Dayton, 79-71, at Dayton as Dick Ricketts led the way with 23 points, an astounding switch from last week when Dayton beat Duquesne by 38 points; Rice opened its Southwest Conference season with a 53-39 victory over Texas A&M as six-10 Temple Tucker scored 18 and six-nine Tom Robitaille added 16; Bradley turned back visiting St. John's of New York, 87-78, despite 21 points by St. John's Bernie Paschal; Lyndon Lee's 22 points led Oklahoma City to an 80-55 victory over Arizona; Conny Freeman and Henry Stein scored 21 each to lead Xavier of Ohio to an 87-79 victory over Western Kentucky.

Wayne Embury's 29 points paced Miami of Ohio to its fourth straight win in the Mid-America Conference, 193-77, over Marshall; Georgia Tech bounced Howard, 95-54; Tennessee edged Grambling, 98-94; Holy Cross downed Massachusetts, 111-96; and Spring Hill shaded Morehead of Kentucky, 83-79, in the final round of the Senior Bowl Tournament at Mobile, Ala.

The spotlight will be mainly on action in the Pacific Coast Conference tonight with four games opening the league season: California-Washington, St. John's-Louisiana, Oregon-St. Stanford, and Washington-Southern California.

Wake Forest will try for its 10th win against Temple and San Francisco 1956 national champion, will meet San Jose St. in other highlights.

Figures in Fight Fix Go Before Jury
LOS ANGELES — Boxer Art Aragon and ex-gambler Mickey Cohen appeared before the county grand jury yesterday as witnesses in a probe of an alleged fixed fight involving Aragon and Dick Goldstein in San Antonio, Tex.

Cohen's appearance was brief and his testimony concerning it, self chiefly with an accusation that police "are conspiring to take my life." Before he entered the jury room he squared off in the corridor with a policeman, but the fight, like the Aragon-Goldstein fight, didn't come off.

Cohen challenged Sgt. William Foreman to a "fight off your badge," but the officer kept it on. Last week Goldstein told the jury that Aragon summoned him to his home Dec. 7 and offered him $500 to lose the San Antonio fight, which was cancelled at the last moment when Aragon was found to have a fever.

Dist. Atty. William B. McKesson said he had a "hunch" Cohen was connected with the alleged fight fix.

The grand jury has postponed action, pending the appearance of other witnesses from San Antonio, Aragon and Goldstein, both of Los Angeles, are welterweights.

Parker, whose Lions lost the Western division title to the Chicago Bears by a half-game, received nine votes in balloting by 25 sports writers who covered the 1956 campaign in the various league cities.

Jim Lee Howell, who guided the New York Giants to their first Eastern division title in 10 years and their first league championship in 18, was runnerup with six votes.

Joe Kuharich, who kept the Washington Redskins in the East, lost the race until the final week of the season, was third in the voting with five ballots.

Ray Richards of the Chicago Cardinals drew four votes and the other went to Paddy Driscoll, who guided the Chicago Bears to the Western division crown in his first season as the team's head coach.

Fullmer, Robinson May Fight Again in March

NEW YORK (AP) — A return bout between newly crowned "middleweight champion Gene Fullmer and dethroned Ray Robinson was just about set today for New York in Mid-March.

Fullmer okayed the second fight, promoter Jim Norris wants and there was every indication the 36-year-old Robinson would officially say yes this afternoon.

Robinson lost his title on a unanimous 15-round decision at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night.

George Gainford, "chief adviser" in the Robinson camp, said the Sugar Man had told him he wanted the rematch at the earliest possible date.

Robinson himself indicated after his losing effort he was eager for the chance to win the title for the fourth time as well as to earn another big payday. He collected $158,190 while Fullmer received only $20,915. For the return each will get 35 per cent.

Norris said about 5,000 fans had been turned away from a surprise sellout Wednesday. The fight lasted 1:14.34 cash customers and grossed $184,654. The radio and television receipts were $100,000 even though New York and Philadelphia were blacked out.

"We could draw between $250,000 and $275,000 for the return at the Garden in the middle of March if we have another local black-out of TV," said Norris.

"That, however, is up to the sponsors."

"We're ready," said Fullmer's manager Marv Jensen. "We want the big money now."

Senior Bowl Coaches Name Their Lineups

By HOYT HARWELL
MOBILE, Ala. — Opposing Senior Bowl coaches today named potential offensive lineups for tomorrow's game. They also announced rugged defensive units, designed to stop the high-powered scoring machines.

Experts rated the North and South squads about even.

Coach Joe Kuharich's Yankees, with Purdue's Len Dawson doing the tossing, are expected to go to the air more than the Rebels. Kuharich, Washington Redskins coach, will use bruising fullback John Bayuk of Colorado to keep the South's defense honest.

Banking Bayuk will be halfbacks Terry Barr of Michigan and Jim Podoley of Central Michigan.

With breakaway runners "Del-Shooter" of Baylor and George "Vol-kert" of Georgia Tech at halfback, the South will probably go more running, although quarterback Charley Curtis of Texas Christian will do his share of passing.

Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns installed All American fullback.

Kuharich has Brad Bomba of Indiana and Bob Koenigle of Purdue at ends; Bob Pollack of Pittsburgh and Bill Underdunk of West

A&M Is Not Troublesome for Rice Owls

By The Associated Press
Rice beat Texas A&M 53-39 last night to join Southern Methodist on top of the Southwest Conference basketball race.

SMU had downed Baylor 70-64 in the opening game of the campaign the previous night.

The Owls won a battle of zone defense in beating Texas A&M at College Station, hitting on 34.4 per cent of their field goal attempts while the Aggies could do only 25.8.

The tall Owls also controlled the backboards with 49 rebounds to a paltry 12 for A&M.

Big Temple Tucker led in scoring with 18 points while Tom Robitaille, his Rice teammate, had 16. George McHaffey topped the Aggies with 13.

Rice led all the way, once boasting an 18-point bulge.

Saturday night all other members of the conference play opening games in the title race. Texas engages Baylor at Waco, Arkansas plays Texas A&M at College Station, and Texas Christian plays Rice at Fort Worth.

BERLIN (UP) — Fifteen East German high school students who fled to West Berlin several days ago may finish their studies in Berlin and graduate from a special school, West Berlin school officials said today.

Prof. Joachim Tiburtius, chief of the West Berlin education department, planned to meet the 15 youths, today to discuss plans for completing their education. The original plan called for the students to enroll in another school in West Germany, but Tiburtius indicated this plan has been changed and they will remain in West Berlin.

The students were to have graduated from their East zone school this summer, but Communist authorities expelled the entire senior class of the Storkow, Brandenburg, high school for taking part in a sympathy demonstration for Hungary.

All 15 boys in the class fled to West Berlin but the five girls decided to stay behind with their parents. The students are 17 and 18 years old.

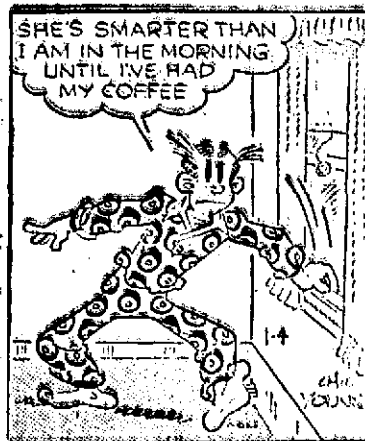

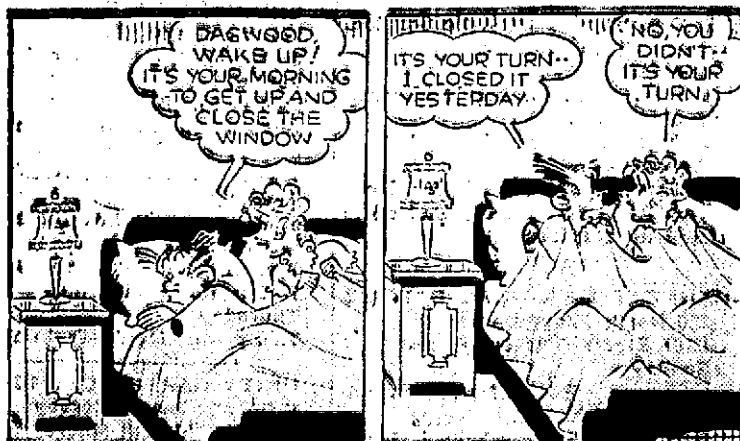

LONDON (UP) — Princess Margareta of Baden, 24-year-old niece of the Duke of Edinburgh, said today she plans to marry Prince Tomislav of Yugoslavia, 29-year-old brother of ex-king Peter.

She said a formal engagement ceremony will be held soon in London's Serbian Orthodox church and the wedding will be held in Germany in June.

CAIRO (UP) — Yemen's know and neither do the doctors." Podres, who had a 9-10 regular season record in 1955 before winning two series games, had a 14-11 mark as a pitcher for two teams while in the Navy. He was a third baseman to sign for $57,000 with Don Newcombe and Pee Wee Reese.

The Detroit Tigers, meanwhile, announced they now have 14 players under contract for next season. The latest to come to terms were Pitcher Paul Foytack, who won 15 games last year, and Catcher Red Wilson, who hit .289 in 78 games in 1956.

THE BEST CROWD TO FOLLOW IS THE CROWD GOING TO CHURCH

There's No Evil There Except What You Carry With You

SMALL MEASURE

Of all things—a man measuring his religion with an eye-dropper. An eye-dropper is used to administer small doses of medicine but it is not proper in the realm of religion. The mercy of God is an ocean divine, a boundless and fathomless deep. An eye-dropper is much too small to convey riches so abundant. How unfortunate is that life that will attempt to take the bounties of God with an eye-dropper. Yet, there are those among us who are satisfied with second-hand religion... the kind a man gets when he attempts to let his wife do his church-going for him. God seeks to talk to all of us direct. Mister, He doesn't want your wife delivering yours via the eye-dropper. Go to church... listen to the Divine voice of God as He seeks to pour His infinite grace and goodness into your soul. Don't be satisfied with such small measure... an eye-dropper full.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Cites Many Jobs Created by Industry

By ED MARTIN
Of The Associated Press

Enough new industrial jobs were created in Arkansas during 1936 to populate a city almost the size of Camden of Helena.

And the total of 10,350 additional jobs covered only new or expanded industries. Plants with less than 10 employees were not included—but there were indications that many of them gained, too.

Seventy new plants announced for Arkansas during the year accounted for 8,170 of the jobs. The remaining 2,180 resulted from expansions of existing plants.

Figuring an average yearly wage of $2,750 for each worker, the 5-digit rise in the number of jobs would mean that Arkansas' industrial wages are due to go up at least 10 per cent annually.

This would amount to about 27 million dollars in new income. But Winthrop Rockefeller, chairman of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, has warned that the state is not yet creating industrial jobs "as fast as people are leaving the farms or graduating from school."

To the cities and towns which got new plants in 1936, however, the future has a rosy hue. Things look especially good to the citizens of Star City in Southeast Arkansas.

One of the largest plants located in the state during the year — Byrd Manufacturing Co.'s shirt which has a population of less than 1,300.

Byrd now is in production with 450 workers and aims at a payroll of 700 in the next few months. Several hundred new workers might have little effect on cities as large as Fort Smith or Little Rock, but the impact on Star City has been terrific.

Business of all kinds has boomed, there is a feeling of confidence in the air. "The plant was a life saver for us," said Mayor Rupert Halbert. "Our only big industry, a sawmill, burned in 1934 and threw about 150 persons out of work. That was a setback which really hurt."

In 1933 Arkansas' nickname was changed by Legislative Act from "The Wonder State" to "The Land of Opportunity."
